FATTENING FEED FOR FOWLS

Cornmeal, Middlings, Beef Scrap and Ground Oats Are Said to Be Advantageous.

A good fattening ration for poultry is two parts cornmeal, one part each of middlings, beef-scrap and ground oats, with the hulls sifted out. These meals should be thoroughly mixed, wet with milk and fed to the panned birds three times a day. Usually, it is not profitable to keep birds in the fattening pen longer than three weeks.

HISTORIC PRECEDENTS

"Four thousand years ago Food Commissioner Joseph, in the land of Egypt commanded one-fifth of the wheat crop of Egypt each year for seven years and stored it in the cities nearest the wheat fields. His drastic action at that time saved the world from starvation.

"Two thousand five hundred years ago Nebuchadnezzar, King of Babylon instructed that certain men whom he wished to have attached to his court be fed on king's food and wine to give them a well-nourished look. One of these men, named Daniel, persuaded his caterer that himself and friends could be better nourished on pulse and water, and requested that he make a test covering a sufficient length of time; the others to be fed on king's food and wine. The test showed that those who lived on pulse (lentils) and water were better nourished than those fed on king's food (luxury and wine.)

"Two thousand years ago Bible history records a miracle of feeding five thousand with a few barley loaves and fishes. The people were commanded to sit in rows of 50 to the row, and the servers passed before each and gave to everyone his portion, so that all were served. It was an instance where a little food went a long way, and the fragments that remained were gathered up so that no food was wasted."—Hotel Monthly.

One of the astonishing exhibitions at the convention of the National Wholesale Grocers Association at Cleveland last week was the uniformity with which everyone connected with the Food Administration lauded the work of Herbert Hoover. Report after report, address after address told of the greatness of his ideals and the unselfish self-sacrifice he is displaying in carrying on perhaps the most momentous responsibility in the world to-day. Every man seemed to really feel, as he spoke, that it was a source of pride that he was permitted to be a part of so great a work.—E. A. Stowe, The Michigan Tradesman.

ORLEANS METHODIST CHURCH

R. V. Birdsall, Pastor.

The fourth quarterly conference will be held in Orleans church Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. Rev. W. H. Phelps will preside.

Next Sunday there will be a change of program on this charge. Meet for Sunday school at your own church at the regular hour, taking your family dinner in a basket. After Sunday school take your family to the farm home of John Rasmussen, first house north of Easton church site, where all three churches will dine together.

Take a sofa pillow or camp chair along for a seat. No seats will be provided. There will be no tables. After dinner District Superintendent Phelps will preach. Then a meeting will be held in the interest of Easton church building. No money will be solicited. This lawn is a fine place for this meeting and we expect a good crowd. There will be special music. If it should be a rainy Sunday the meeting will be held in the Divine church. The preaching hour will be about 1 o'clock. Everybody come.

The Ladies' Aid society requests that the canned fruit be brought to Orleans church before August 10 to be shipped to Wesley hospital, Chicago.

A meeting of the Easton church trustees was held at the home of Perry Stebbins last Wednesday night. A committee of George Hullberger, John Ellison and G. P. Hawley was appointed to submit plans to a contractor and get his estimate of cost of building. For the present the meetings will be held in Goodwin school-house. Preaching at 10 o'clock and Sunday school at 11 o'clock.

The Tired Fisherman has a Fine String of Fish. Yet he does not look happy, for he knows that when he gets to Town, the Fellows will ask, "Where did you buy them?" and he will have to grin sheepishly, whereas he would like to Wallop them Fore and Aft with his string of Finny Beauties.

The Plain Duty of Every American

Your duty, as an American citizen, is plain, definite, and imperative. Your sons and your neighbors' sons are going abroad to fight for their country, their flag, their homes—and for YOU.

They cannot fight without food, shoes, clothes, bread and bullets.

The Government looks to you for the money to buy these things. Your Duty is to lend—not give—this money.

It is more than Duty—more than patriotism—it is a privilege to buy War Savings Stamps

The money you pay for them will help win the war—help keep our soldiers fed, clothed, armed, and protected—help keep your country safe for Democracy.

The United States Government guarantees to pay your money back. It pays you interest on your money, 4 per cent, compounded quarterly.

You can buy War Savings Stamps at post-offices, banks, and other licensed selling agencies.
